

SEAFOOD TREATS BUILT FROM THE SOURCE

We've spent decades on the docks of New Bedford — one of the most active fishing ports in the country — sourcing premium seafood for tables around the world. We know what exceptional seafood looks like. We also know how much of it never reaches the right market.

Dockside was built to close that gap. Limited-ingredient, minimally processed treats made from the same seafood we've sourced and processed for decades — held to human-grade standards, from the same facility, for the pet at your customer's side.

Wholesale only, always — we never compete with the retailers we sell through.

WHY IT'S DIFFERENT

Dock-Direct Sourcing

Backed by Marder Seafood's direct presence on the docks of New Bedford. No brokers, no supply chain gaps — decades of sourcing relationships that put us closer to the fish than most pet treat brands ever get.

Human-Grade / Made in the USA

Processed in a facility that produces seafood for human consumption. The same standard, the same facility, across every product in the line.

Clean Label

No fillers, no artificial preservatives, no mystery ingredients. Every product in the Dockside line earns its place on the label.

about DOCKSIDE TREATS CO.

Dockside Treats Co. was built on a simple observation: the same premium seafood we've spent decades sourcing for human consumption is exactly what pets deserve too.

Backed by Marder Seafood's presence on the docks of New Bedford — one of the most active fishing ports in the country — Dockside has direct access to wild-caught, responsibly sourced fish that most pet treat brands can't get near. No brokers. No compromises on quality.

The result is a line of limited-ingredient, minimally processed treats held to human food standards from catch to bag. Because the bar shouldn't drop just because it's going to a pet.
